Bond election date set; land appeal undecided

Canyon school district voters will give a yes or no decision in early December on whether new schools should be constructed in the district.

School board members Monday night voted their intent to at some later date formally set a bond election on a weekday in early December.

The question on the ballot will be whether voters desire for the district to issue between $5 and $6 million in bonds for construction of a new elementary school and a new high school in the north part of the district.

A bond issue for the two projects has been discussed by the board for at least two years and a citizens committee last week recommended after two months of study that an election be called to determine whether the bonds will be issued for the schools.

Board members tabled another item of discussion Monday night on whether or not to appeal to the Texas Board of Education a recent ruling by the Texas Commissioner of Education upholding an earlier decision by the Randall County Board of School Trustees to allow 160 acres of development land in the Glendale subdivision south of Amarillo to be detached from the Canyon district and annexed to the Amarillo district.

They have been strongly urged to pursue the appeal by their Austin attorney, said by local authorities to be the most eminent school law attorney in the state. But, they have also been warned by their financial advisor that further litigation on the matter could stymie efforts to issue the bonds necessary for construction of the two new schools.

Still hanging after the board meeting, which ended about 1 a.m. Tuesday after an executive session, was a decision on where in the South Amarillo area to locate the proposed new elementary school.

Supt. Jerry Jacobs told The News Tuesday he anticipates the school board will have concrete cost figures from its architect on anticipated construction fees for perusal at their Oct. 21 regular meeting.

Earlier indications from the architect and from talks Jacobs and Board President Tom Keeling have had with architects in other areas are that a per square foot cost for new building construction and equipment could be as high as $30.

If Financial Advisor Davis is correct, no matter what the total cost of the new buildings, the Canyon district will be able to issue bonds for no more than $4.5 million if the election in December is favorable.

As Davis explained it several weeks ago to members of the Committee for Sound Financing, a citizens group called together by the school board to study the needs for new schools, the Texas attorney general will not approve an issuance of bonds of more than that amount because of the low assessed valuation on the Canyon tax books.

Davis suggested at that time the board issue $4.5 million, begin work on the schools, raise the assessed valuation next summer, and then issue more bonds to cover the full costs of the schools.

Jacobs said Tuesday he anticipates a decision will be made Oct. 21 on whether to file an appeal with the board of education on the land annexation question (See SCHOOL, Page 5)

Attorney says interpretations differ

Co-op, auditors in tax hassle

Consumer's Fuel Association of Canyon has been told by Texas Comptroller auditors it owes more than $10,000 in back sales taxes, but officials of the firm claim the auditors have misinterpreted state law.

Association directors met last week with auditors from the Amarillo office of State Comptroller Bob Bullock and with State Rep. Bob Simpson concerning the auditors' report on the back sales taxes.

Association officials charge that if the auditors' interpretation of state law is upheld it will mean an additional tax levy on farmers in addition to the payment of the back taxes.

Consumer's Manager Wes Bourn indicated the association will seek relief on the ruling of the auditors at a hearing later this fall in Austin.

He explained that a week ago three auditors from the Amarillo comptroller's office concluded an audit of the association's books, the audit having been conducted as part of a spot-check program implemented under Bullock.

At the conclusion of the audit, he said, the auditors turned over a long list of items they contend were not exempt from state sales taxes but which were sold as though exempt.

Association Attorney Jim Brown of Canyon said employees of the cooperative have for years interpreted Texas law in a certain way relative to the collection of sales taxes on certain farm items.

"Our situation is one where people come to the coop and buy certain items which the employees and the purchaser thought were exempt from sales taxes because they were used for farm work," Brown said.

He explained that under the law, the purchaser of the farm product must sign an affidavit swearing the item will be used exclusively for farm production and for no other purpose.

Brown said the auditors contend that certain items sold under that procedure should have been taxed all along and backsales taxes for four years business are due.

He said his interpretation of the law, the interpretation also of the cooperative employees, would mean that as long as a purchaser signs an affidavit contending a certain product will be used exclusively for his farm's production, the cooperative is relieved of responsibility in collecting sales taxes on the particular items.

State law sets out certain items which are to be exempted from sales taxes and the comptroller's office has also issued a list of items which can be exempted from sales taxes, he said.

One portion of the law, for example, specifically exempts from sales taxes "machinery or equipment exclusively used or employed on farms or ranches in the production of food for human consumption, production of grass, the building or maintaining of roads and water facilities, feed for any form of animal life, or other agricultural products to be sold in the regular course of business."

Brown said that while the association contends that as long as the purchaser swears his use of a purchased product will be exclusively for the farm taxes should not be levied, the auditors contend that a product must be exclusively made and sold only for farm use.

"It seems to me the two fellows have the idea the items had to be (See TAXES, Page 5)

To 'let people let their hair down'

'Different' chamber banquet set

Canyon folks who in the past may have felt compelled to attend the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet more by obligation than by an anticipation of a fun evening can look forward to a 1976 banquet which will put an end to the old stereotypical evening fare.

Chamber directors Monday night laid tentative plans for a banquet which will be a complete withdrawal from the usual dinner-entertainment-speaker, coat-and-tie affair.

With an air of excitement, directors talked Monday night about an informal evening of barbecue and beans — in the spirit of the American bi-centennial — spiked with square dancing, a little musical entertainment and perhaps as many as three very brief speeches on bi-centennial topics.

The proposal discussed Monday would have those who come to the banquet dress in bi-centennial costumes.

The goal of the affair, according to President Weldon Trice, is to put a little fun into what in the past has been more a formal and stiff evening.

It is, he said, "to let people let down their hair and have a good time."

Perhaps, Trice noted, if the meal for the evening is simplified, it might even be possible to lower the price of tickets for the banquet to the level of between $3 and $4 per person.

Members of the chamber's women's division were to continue discussion of the idea at their meeting Tuesday night.

In other business Monday, chamber directors approved a list of candidates for terms on the chamber board. The candidates were submitted by the chamber nominating committee and will be (See CHAMBER, Page 5)

Service said to be failing

Ambulance firm voted funds aid

An injection of new money along with a steady diet of increased funding are expected to provide stability for what, until this week, has been a fast-failing Canyon Ambulance Service.

Canyon city commissioners Monday night voted to allocate an immediate advance of $1000 to the service to pay off back debts and increase the city's monthly subsidy to the service from $800 to $1000.

Randall County commissioners considered a similar proposal during their Monday meeting and members of the South Randall County Hospital District board are expected to act on a recommendation later this month.

The three entities provide $800 per month each to subsidize the ambulance service which is operated here by Vietnam War veteran Richard Bertrand.

Bertrand took over the service from Schooler-Gordon Funeral Directors last summer and the three governments at that time voted in the increased subsidy. Directors of the hospital district hiked local taxes during the summer to provide the $800 per month subsidy.

Representatives of the three governments apparently met in secret last week with Bertrand to discuss the operations of the firm, and mutually agreed on the recommendation of an increased subsidy and an immediate advance of subsidy of $2000 from each entity.

The $2000 immediate advance, as explained to county and city commissioners, is apparently meant to cover over-due bills incurred by the ambulance service in its several months of operation. It is to be repaid, according to City Manager Glen Metcalf, in $100 monthly installments.

The increase in monthly subsidy from $800 to $1000 from each entity is to provide adequate funding for the operations of the service, city and county officials were told in separate sessions Monday.

Mayor Manly Bryan struck an ominous note when he introduced the discussion Monday night as he told city commissioners "the ambulance service is about to close shop."

Metcalf reported he, Commissioner Willis Harrison and local accountant Gene Glazener had met with the other officials (See FUNDS, Page 5)

Denny Park of Canyon takes a breather this week after riding 80 miles Saturday in the Canyon Heart Fund cyclethon, an annual fund-raising event. Park put on the most mileage in the week end event. He is math teacher at the junior high school.

City annexation east suggested by planners

Should the city act now to control inevitable growth along the Palo Duro Highway toward the proposed Interstate 27?

Or would such a move amount to illegal strip annexation?

These questions were raised — and left unanswered — at the city commissioner's meeting Monday night.

A suggestion from the planning and zoning board to annex lands on either side of the Palo Duro Highway to the proposed Interstate 27 received scant attention by the city commissioners after the mayor labeled the move "strip annexation."

Such annexation along a narrow corridor to include the highway would be unlawful, the commissioners concluded.

There has been some discussion in the community of extending the city limits to the east to encompass I-27, planned to bypass Canyon about a mile and a quarter. However, Monday night was the first time the matter has been brought before city officials.

Even so, the urging was unofficial. City manager Glen Metcalf passed on the recommendation from the minutes of planning and zoning board, but board chairman Clarence Thompson noted that his group would not approve the minutes until the next meeting.

However, within its function as a planning body, Thompson said the board felt that the city should begin to study annexation of the area east of the city limits to promote orderly growth there.

"The area should be considered before the growth takes place," he said.

Concerning the possibility that the annexation would be illegal, Thompson said "I wasn't aware we were recommending a narrow strip or a wide strip or any particular size."

City attorney Elton Cox said that while he hadn't had a chance to check out the law completely, that it had been held that annexation just to get to an area is illegal strip annexation.

Cox said he will check the law further as soon as city officials request the information.

Metcalf said he planned to seek (See CITY, Page 5)

Suit filed over wreck

The father of a Canyon school girl is suing the estate of a 75-year old man killed Feb. 20, 1974 in a car-school bus crash north of Canyon, claiming his daughter has been disfigured and limited in future earning capacity.

Johnny Hanson is father of Polly Hanson, 15, a student in Canyon schools in February 1974 when the bus in which she was riding collided with a car driven by James Monroe Reed, 75, of the Palo Duro Club.

Reed was killed in the wreck, which sent the Canyon school bus off the road near the Kimbrough Stadium exit of the east access road of U.S. 87 north of Canyon about 7:50 a.m., Feb. 20, 1974. The bus overturned twice, injuring slightly 30 Canyon Junior High students, seven (See SUIT, Page 5)

I have often tried to characterize a good teacher — but I have always been unable to get beyond the fact of great teachers who violated most of the so-called "objective criteria" of good teaching and poor teachers who lived strictly by such so-called "objective criteria."

Portrait of the artist not yet complete, Caballero indicates

The canvas, stretched a year ago, is splashed in greys and darker shades here and there and the image of a man is discerned emerging from the wash of hues.

The paint, dry now, has been applied with an uneven hand, light brush strokes mingling with broad swipes, laying up color pigment in thick grooves.

For Dr. Emilio Caballero, teacher and artist at West Texas State University for more than 20 years, the picture is not yet complete.

If the artist's hand is to depict truth, if his canvas is to express a bit of the truth itself, the visage Caballero discerns from the murky canvas of public perception to be himself, is not only incomplete, it is distorted.

The image, produced on the canvas of the public mind, is rejected by Caballero, draped in bath robe and sitting, his glasses in his right hand, in his darkened living room.

While the delicate strokes, the subtle colors, of Caballero are intermixed with the strokes and colors of those who for nine months have been involved in one of the most controversial personnel decisions at WTSU in recent years, Caballero feels his eye and his hand are less imparted from the canvas than the image created by others.

A public hearing now ended, a decision rendered by the hearing committee, notice given Caballero will not appeal the ruling, the artist-teacher sits now in his living room to examine from his perspective the portrait, captioned "E. Caballero: Former head of the WTSU art department."

The portrait is incomplete, distorted, Caballero contends because, for his own benefit, the decision was made late in his hearing that he would not testify in his own behalf.

The hearing, a two-and-a-half day affair which ended recently when the hearing committee voted to back the WTSU administration in its decision not to renew Caballero's appointment as art department head, included testimony from key administrators, brush strokes of grey and dark colors swished over the canvas creating there the image of a poor administrator, a man inept at paperwork and fiscal detail, but also the image of a man whose integrity, whose ethics, could be questioned in dealing with his own son.

Rumor has its place on the canvas, too, and it was the rumor that Caballero had unethically smoothed the way for his son, Charles, to receive a masters degree in art, which first blotted the canvas last spring.

Recuperating at home since the hearing due to an attack the origin of which is yet to be determined, Caballero talks frankly now about the course he pursued in calling for WTSU administrators to lay before the public their charges against him.

The rumors, he says, rumors imputing the integrity not only of his son, but of himself, were instrumental in his decision last spring to repudiate his resignation as art department head and to call for full public disclosure of the charges against him.

"I never wanted my job back," Caballero says now, seated in a living room of rich decorative scheme, surrounded by his own works and those of others. "I wanted the truth to come out. I wanted people to know the rumors weren't true."

Ironically, the very rumor which most concerned Caballero is not yet laid to rest, its veracity unproven.

For weeks after Caballero turned in his resignation as head of the art department at WTSU, rumors circulated around campus and in the Panhandle that the regionally-famed artist had improperly given his son A grades in courses the rumors implied were not pursued or completed.

"The more I heard this rumor, the more I realized I had to take some action to disprove it, to show my son did no less than any other art graduate student for his degree," Caballero says.

In June, after already publicly repudiating his resignation, Caballero's attorney appeared (See CABALLERO, Page 5)

First Class Postal Improvements

The U.S. Postal Service first-class mail service improvement program will go into effect at the Canyon Post Office on October 11, Postmaster Lee Roy Moreland said today.

Under the program, first-class mail will receive service that is equal to or better than airmail.

The major, new service step will extend to all first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. "In practical terms, what this service improvement means is that domestic first-class postage now will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," said Postmaster Moreland.

"Under the new program, there no longer will be an advantage in purchasing airmail postage for domestic delivery," he said.

Priority mail (now starting at weight in excess of 13 ounces), which includes air parcel service, and international airmail are unaffected by the improvement program and continue in their present form, the postmaster said.

"Airmail stamps will be sold for use on priority and international airmail. They can also be used in various combinations with other stamps for first-class mail," he said.

Customers can exchange airmail stamps, and stamped envelopes and cards at full postage value for ordinary stamps, stamped envelopes and cards. Stationery bearing airmail indicia will be allowed to be mailed at the first-class rate, Postmaster Moreland said.

To aid postal customers, maps showing the cities and areas targeted for next and second day delivery for mail from Canyon will be on display in the post office lobby as soon as they are available, the postmaster said.

Although they approved a change in the city fire code classification along 8th Avenue, Canyon commissioners took a step Monday night toward abandoning the fire codes and relying entirely on zoning regulations and building codes.

Such a move could sharply increase the price for building permits but city officials indicated that they would not allow fees to rise above inspection costs.

City code enforcer Jerry Lehnick reported to the commissioners a request by Jim Martin to place a mobile home on 8th Avenue behind a service station. The request meets zoning regulations and building requirements, Lehnick said, but is in violation of the fire code, which requires all construction in a commercial zone to be masonry.

Lehnick told the commissioners that they could expect more frequent requests for exceptions in the fire code and said that the city had been advised by the state board of insurance to eliminate the fire codes and use a uniform building code.

The city now has a uniform code only for commercial buildings and will need to update regulations for residential construction, Lehnick explained.

In adopting a building code for residential construction, Le-nick explained that the fees would probably need to be amended. The present fees for commercial buildings would raise the fee for a building permit on a $40,000 house from the present $15-$20 range to about $200, he said.

The board protested such an increase.

"The purpose of the fee is to cover the cost of inspecting the building," said Mayor J. Manly Bryan. "We don't want to make money on it."

Keeping permit fees low is one way Canyon has of attracting more builders, said Commissioner Jim Christopher.

Christopher moved to delete fire zone regulations and use a uniform building code instead, but withdrew his motion after it was decided that a new ordinance would be needed to effect the change.

Zoning Changes

Zoning occupied much of the commissioners' attention. They approved the rezoning of a portion along 4th Avenue from single family dwellings to multifamily housing after a brief public hearing at which one resident questioned the change.

The area rezoned runs from 11th Street, along 4th Avenue to the railroad, south to 6th Avenue and back to 8th Avenue.

Harley Burrus questioned the change, telling the commissioners that he bought property in that area after being told by city officials that the lot was zoned commercial. Mayor Bryan explained that lots in that section have always been zoned for single family dwellings only and that the change to multifamily dwellings was "one step closer to commercial."

The commissioners called for a public hearing on Nov. 1 to consider rezoning for multifamily housing two other sections nearby. The zoning changes are requested by J.D. Ruthart, T.J. Harper and James B. Davis, Jr.

The board agreed in principle to return a 20-foot strip along Village Drive to former owner, A. W. Lair, after stipulating that consultation would have to be held with owners of the Lexington Apartments to insure ingress and egress to the complex.

The commissioners had tabled the request last year, but agreed to consider it after city manager Glen Metcalf reported that utilities in the area would not be affected. The city would retain a 60-foot easement which Metcalf said was the same easement held on other major thoroughfares in the city.

A final decision will not be made until the commissioners study the deed which would return the property.

The commissioners heard a recommendation from the planning and zoning board to consider annexing an area from the present eastern city limits to the proposed route of Interstate 27 but took no action. Such annexation would likely be strip annexing, which is unlawful, the mayor told commissioners.

A monthly payment of $49,973.71 was approved for work on the city civic complex to Page and Wirtz Construction Company and an additional $40 was approved for testing fees on the concrete work.

Speed Limit

The board agreed to increase to 55 mph the speed limit for trains traveling within the city limits. The increase had been agreed upon by an earlier board of commissioners, the mayor explained, but had never been formally approved. Metcalf said Santa Fe officials had requested the change after the oversight was discovered.

The fireman's training school held recently by the Canyon department attracted 427 students and was the second largest in the state, deputy chief Joe Rice told the board. The school is paying its way through the $7.50 registration fee, he said.

The commissioners approved a resolution commending the Canyon firemen for their work on the school.

The board also agreed to join the American Association of Small Cities, a new organization established to lobby in Washington for the needs of small municipalities. Membership dues will amount to about $45, the mayor reported. Bryan served on the association steering committee.

Tax Collection

In a joint meeting with the Canyon Independent School District, both entities agreed to renew the tax services contract at last year's rate of five per cent of the tax total.

CISD collects the city's taxes on a consolidated tax statement with school taxes.

The difficulties of setting a city tax rate in March was discussed, since the school district does not set its tax rate until August, but Mayor Bryan explained that the city could probably amend its rate if it didn't conform with the school district.

According to the discussion, the two taxing units must have the same valuation, although the tax rate could differ.

Commission Paves Way For Constitution Talks

No matter what stand they may take as a group, Randall Canyon commissioners Monday paved the way for two sessions later this month where the proposed new Texas Constitution can be discussed in public.

Commissioners took action on a suggestion by Dr. Walter Shelly, government professor at West Texas State University, that they encourage public discussion of the constitution and its impact on state government.

They will sponsor two sessions tentatively scheduled for Oct. 30, one in Amarillo and one in Canyon, where the new constitution can be discussed.

Participants in the discussion have not yet been selected, but County Judge Woody Pond was charged by commissioners with the responsibility of finding persons to discuss the constitution.

The commission decision to sponsor the two sessions to discuss the propositions, which will be on the ballot for voter response on Nov. 4, came after Shelly and Gene McGlasson, local attorney, spoke on whether commissioners should go on record against or in support of the proposed document.

Shelly, prefacing his remarks with a statement that he did not intend to debate the merits or demerits of the proposed document, asked commissioners to remain neutral on the constitution and to encourage, instead, public discussion of the document.

Before the commissioners for three weeks has been a resolution authored by Pond which calls for voters to defeat the proposed constitution and which urges Gov. Dolph Briscoe to support defeat of the document.

"This function of informing the public about the proposed constitution is a much higher calling than merely denouncing a document in its entirety or urging the people to reject it in its entirety," Shelly said. "This request of neutrality is not directed to you commissioners as individual citizens, for you too must be strong in your individual convictions. Rather, it is aimed at you as a governing body, for your collective duty is to maintain a sense of neutrality and to encourage and aid the people to make the best possible decision concerning a new constitution."

Nevertheless, the alternate resolution states that the commissioners go on record individually as opposing the document.

In other business Monday, commissioners approved a new method of feeding prisoners in the county jail.

Sheriff Cliff Longest reported that the firm which currently supplies two meals each day to prisoners at a cost of about $2.25 per prisoner per day, will cease the service in about four or five weeks.

Longest said his staff had studied alternate methods of providing food for the inmates and had concluded that the sheriff's office itself could provide hot meals from frozen prepared food trays and save the county about 40 cents per prisoner per day.

He said under his plan prisoners would eat three meals per day at a cost to the county of about $1.80 per day per prisoner.

Prepared frozen meals would be purchased locally and a good supply of the meals would be kept on hand in freezers in the jail kitchen.

Longest said equipment for the project would cost about $2000, but that the new plan would save more than that during its first year of operation.

Commissioners opened seven bids from insurance firms to provide medical and life insurance for county employees.

The bids will be examined and tallied by an outside committee consisting of Weyman Brown of Canyon, H.C. Burke of Amarillo and Lane Cooper of Amarillo.

Roberts Paper Co. of Amarillo was awarded the contract to provide paper goods for the county for another year.

Bob Davis, financial advisor for the county, reported that the new South Amarillo courthouse annex is virtually completed and will be ready for inspection within a month.

Commissioners approved payment of $65,000 in certificates of obligation to the contractor, Panhandle Engineers and Contractors, for work completed on the annex during September.

A total of $590,000 in certificates of obligation have been issued for the construction since the building was begun last spring.

Commissioners set Oct. 27 as a holiday for county employees in recognition of Veterans Day.

They also approved a resolution calling on state and federal sources to provide funding for new county road signs.

Commissioners will meet at 10 a.m. Friday in a special session to pay bills and hear other business.

FAB Low Bid OK Expected

A low bid of $2.7 million for construction of a new fine arts building on the West Texas State University campus is expected to be approved and a contract signed Friday afternoon.

West Texas State regents are to meet in a special session at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the Cullen Building in Houston to consider the bids for the new facility.

Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, university president, and Hermas Miller, university financial vice president, are to travel to Houston for the meeting.

Watkins said Tuesday he understands the FAB bid approval will be the only item of business on the regents' agenda.

Friday is the last day bids submitted by contractors for the project were good under the specifications given them last summer. Bids had been opened Sept. 10 on the campus here and Miller had already contacted the low bidder, Reid & Gary Strickland of Amarillo, to see if they would extend their prices for a period until regent approval could be gained.

The Strickland firm had bid $2,683,900 for the project, including 12 alternates. The price was far below an anticipated estimate of nearly $4.2 million which the university had available for the project.

Fourteen companies bid on the construction.

Strickland bid a base price of $2.4 million, but included prices for adding such things as wood veneer in the recital hall, quarry tile in the lobby, and an outdoor amphitheatre.

As planned, the building will be constructed just north of the university complex south on campus and east of the current fine arts building.

It is to include classrooms and studio facilities for the departments of art, drama, speech and music.

Shelly said it is not up to the commissioners to pass a resolution either for or against the document since they are representatives of the people and decide issues which the people cannot directly decide.

"The people do not need their government to pass a resolution for or against this document or to urge them to vote one way or another," he said. "They need information."

"If you believe, as I think you believe, that our democracy rests upon more than rhetoric and empty slogans, and if you believe, as I think you believe, in the ability of the electorate to exercise their good judgement if they are given the facts, then it would be inconsistent on your part to pass the proposed resolution on this most important question."

McGlasson told commissioners there is ample precedent for the commission to go on record urging local citizens to vote against the document.

He said the voters need an expression from the governing body on the proposals as they relate to county government.

Following the presentations, Pond introduced an alternate resolution, one he indicated will be considered along with the original resolution denouncing the proposed constitution, when the commissioners take up the question again later this month.

The second proposed resolution is a less harsh indictment of the proposed constitution and simply calls on the electorate to vote their consciences on election day.

Man-Woman Die In Wreck

A young man and woman were killed late Sunday afternoon when their motorcycle and a car collided on Farm Road 1541 about three and a quarter miles south of Amarillo.

Dead are Emmett Allen Morris, 24, and his passenger, Carol Sue Jennings, 18, both of Amarillo. The driver of the auto that struck the motorcyclists, Michael Dean Copeland, 18, of Pampa and his sister, Neysa Copeland, 14, received minor injuries.

According to reports, Morris and Miss Jennings were riding with a group of cyclists to the Amarillo Dragway when their motorcycle veered suddenly into the path of the oncoming car.

WT Stipends Given

Three West Texas State University chemistry majors have been awarded $1,500 Robert A. Welch Foundation scholarships for research projects during the 1975-76 school year.

Charles B. Smith, Canyon graduate; Wayne Marsh, Arkansas City, Kan., senior; and Matt Hanson, Amarillo junior, are working with Dr. Gene Carlisle, associate professor of chemistry, at the WTSU Killgore Research Center.

Smith has worked on the Foundation scholarship since January of last year, Hanson has received the grant for two consecutive years and this is the first semester for Marsh.

The research involves the problems in magnetic properties of transition metal complexes, Dr. Carlisle explained.

Smith is the son of Lahoma P. Smith, 2422 15th Avenue, Canyon and Hanson is the son of Billie Hanson, 7006 Euclid, Amarillo.

Boosters for a clean-up week for Canyon are Mayor J. Manly Bryan, Dr. Steve Remlinger, Campaign Chairman, and Weldon Trice, Chamber of Commerce President, as Mayor Bryan proclaims Oct. 6-16 as Canyon Beautification. The campaign, sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, is designed to produce clean alleys and lots of wood for the WTSU Homecoming bonfire. All wooden articles are welcome at the bonfire site near the WTSU tennis courts.

Sixteen West Texas State University coeds will compete for the title of Miss WTSU at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Canyon High School Auditorium.

Tickets for the pageant will be $1.50 for current WTSU students and $2 for the general public. Preliminary events on Friday evening will be free. Tickets will be available at the door.

Grass Fire

Approximately 60 acres of grass at Washington St. and the Claude cutoff burned Monday before Canyon volunteer firemen extinguished the flames.

It took nearly an hour and a half to put out the fire, according to Jack Jennings, fire chief. The fire was reported shortly after 1 p.m.

Nursery Open For Buff Games

Nursery facilities of the First United Methodist Church are open to all denominations needing child care provided during West Texas State University home football games.

The nursery, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Kirkpatrick, is open one hour prior to ballgame time and remains open for parents to pick up their young children for an hour after the ballgames are dismissed.

The minimal charge for child care is $1.50 for one child, $2 for two children of the same family or $3 for three or more children of the same family. Care is supervised by Mrs. Kirkpatrick with junior high and high school students aiding in the overall care program.

Magazine Sale Starts

The annual magazine subscription drive sponsored by the junior class of Canyon High began yesterday.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

Leon Miller & Lee Hicks (Lone Star Feedyard), P.O. Box 308, Happy, Texas 79042, has applied to the Texas Water Quality Board for an amendment to Permit No. 01637 pertaining to process generated wastewater and/or any amount of rainfall runoff containing wastes from the cattle feedlot (25,000 head) which is located approximately one-half (1/2) mile east of FM Road 1541 at a point approximately one (1) mile north of the intersection of FM Road 1541 the Swisher-Randall County Line Road, and approximately 16 miles south-southeast of Canyon, Randall County, Texas. The process generated wastewater and/or rainfall runoff containing wastes will be retained in a play lake and disposed of by evaporation and irrigation. There will be no discharge to the surface waters of the State. A Hearing Commission of the Texas Water Quality Board will hold a public hearing on this application which has been fixed for

9:00 a.m.—November 5, 1975
Conference Room C
Municipal Building
590 E. 7th Street
Amarillo, Texas

to receive evidence on the conditions, if any, under which the amended permit may be issued, and to determine whether State Certification in accordance with Section 401 of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 may be issued. Preliminary information available to the staff of the Texas Water Quality Board indicates that a waste discharge conforming to the conditions in the proposed permit would not unreasonably impair the quality of waters in the State.

The hearing may be continued from time to time and place to place, if necessary, to develop all relevant evidence bearing on the subject of the hearing. Further information concerning any aspect of the discharge, if available, may be obtained by writing the Texas Water Quality Board, P.O. Box 13246, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

last week to discuss the future of the ambulance service.

"It is the intent of the subsidy to pay the operating expenses and let the fees pay Mr. Bertrand back for operating the service," Metcalf said. He told commissioners Bertrand had originally underestimated the costs which would be required to operate the service.

Glazener, Metcalf said, has exclusively manufactured for use on the farm (before they would be tax exempt)," Brown said. "I don't read the law as saying that."

Brown cited, as an example, the comptroller's own listing of items which would be exempted from taxes. "They list a lot of items that could be used in many ways," he said.

Brown cited the example of a farmer who purchased an electric motor for use in his dairy barn. The auditors, he said, contend the item is taxable because an electric motor can be used for other purposes also.

The attorney said the comptroller's listing of taxable items includes baling wire, barbed wire, cattle guards, chains, hose, tools, medicine and rodent poison. Non-taxable items include annual plants, block salt, cattle, cultivators, defoliants, feed, fertilizer, irrigation equipment, plows, saddles and tack, seeds, and other items.

The auditors, he said, have been courteous and friendly in their job, but the disagreement arises, he said, over their interpretation of the law.

A spokesman for the state comptroller's office in Austin agreed with Brown's interpretation of the law.

He said as long as the farmer or purchaser signs an affidavit of use of a particular item the cooperative is relieved of any liability for collection of sales taxes and the farmer is liable for proving his use of the equipment or item exclusively in the production of agricultural stuffs.

The spokesman noted that many items could be used for many different things, not all relating to agricultural production, and the law calls for exemptions from taxes on items used exclusively for production.

Suit. . .

Canyon High students, and three Rex Reeves Elementary School students.

Hanson filed the suit on behalf of his daughter this week in 181st District Court in Canyon.

He seeks more than $30,000 in damages.

Hanson contends in the suit that his daughter was a passenger in the school bus when it was in collision with the Reed vehicle.

Reed, the suit alleges, "was driving and operating his motor vehicle in the opposite direction from said school bus and on the wrong side of the two-lane divided highway," and "drove said vehicle into said school bus, causing a violent collision."

The injuries to Miss Hanson, the suit says, were caused solely by the negligence of Reed, who failed "to keep a proper lookout at the time and place in question," failed "to apply his brakes on his vehicle within sufficient time to avoid striking said school bus," failed "to drive his vehicle to his left before colliding with said school bus," and failed "to drive his vehicle to the right before colliding with said school bus."

In addition, the suit alleges Reed was negligent in being on the wrong side of the access road. Prior to the collision, the suit says, Miss Hanson was "a healthy, active, young girl, thirteen years of age, fully capacitated and attending school and helping about the home."

But, the suit says, as a result of the accident, Miss Hanson "sustained serious and permanent injuries to her head, face, mouth, teeth, legs and over the greater part of her body, which have caused her severe and intense pain, suffering, mental anguish and incapacity."

Hanson alleges his daughter will be permanently disfigured as a result of the accident.

He asks $30,000 for the suffering, anguish and disfigurement and $3500 for medical treatment and surgery.

made known to local chamber members next week for balloting. Ballots are to be returned to the chamber office before Oct. 25.

Those nominated include John Childs, former chamber president and assistant vice president at First National Bank; Kenneth Thompson, a former director and owner of the Carriage House Shoes; JoZach Byrd, owner of Goodnight Trading Post in Palo Duro Canyon; Steve McCullough, assistant cashier at West Texas State Bank; Billy Joe Hunter, manager of the Canyon Schooler-Gordon Funeral Home; Bob Muir, professor of economics at West Texas State University; Bill Rawlings, owner of Rawlings Insurance and manager of Canyon Creek Apartments; and Dr. James Hanson, director of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Chamber members are to choose four of the eight nominees to serve next year on the board.

During the meeting, directors announced the following upcoming events:

*A chamber breakfast for members and guests at 6:45 a.m. Oct. 16 at the community center. West Texas State University will host the affair, which is free of charge.

*Homecoming at WTSU, which is scheduled next weekend with bonfire, barbecue, parade and football game.

Trapeze Artist Has Famed Career

By LAURIE TELFAIR

He performed on the trapeze before he was born, but it wasn't until years later that he returned to the circus life.

As he donned the layers of tattered clothing that make up his clown costume, Emmett Kelly, Jr., explained his prenatal debut.

"I was performing professionally before I was born," he said. "My mother was on the trapeze until she was seven months along with me and then she rode horseback for five more weeks."

The night he was born, his mother was working in the ticket booth until she began labor, he said.

But as a child, Kelly had little to do with the circus.

"I was farmed out to relatives when I got school age," he said. "In those days, you either traveled with the circus and got no education or you went to relatives and got an education."

Slipping on his oversized shoes, Kelly excused himself to check a water connection on the motor home he travels in. When he grew up, Kelly went instead into railroading, working for the Cincinnati and Indianapolis Railroad in Indiana.

However, railroads were also a part of his family history. His grandfather on his father's side was a section foreman on the Santa Fe in Kansas and his mother's father went from railroading to the circus after he

The superintendent suggested to school board members during their Monday meeting that rather than calling a school bond election for Nov. 4, to coincide with an election for consideration of a new Texas Constitution, they should postpone the bond decision until early December.

He said voters might be in a largely negative frame of mind when going to the polls in November on the constitutional proposals and the bond election might have a better chance of passage if held separately.

A survey of voters conducted in the summer of 1974 by a University of Texas class indicated voters here would support a bond issue for construction of new schools.

Board members reviewed briefly the six recommendations of the Committee for Sound Finance, recommendations which call for construction of two new schools in the north part of the district and a bond issue to finance the construction.

And, they reviewed the recent opinion handed down by the education commissioner on the annexation question.

In a letter to School Attorney Elton Cox, J. C. Hinsley of Austin, attorney who aided the district in the appeal, strongly suggested appeal the commissioner's decision to the board of education and then to the courts. "Frankly," Hunsley said in his letter, "I'm not sure that this matter had the careful attention it would have had in the years past. For that reason, I would strongly suggest that an appeal be taken from this matter to the State Board of Education, and then possibly to the courts if the decision of the State Board of Education is unfavorable."

In other business Monday, the board approved a 1975-76 school district taxroll of $1,430,257.

They also agreed to join with the Paso Regional Service Center for a crime prevention and drug abuse program.

Following the regular session, the board met behind closed doors to discuss the possible location of a new elementary school in the north part of the district.

Developers of Estacado Estates, which is just south of Amarillo off Bell Avenue, have offered a tract for the district's use in construction of a new elementary school.

became the conductor on the circus show train.

"My father ran away from home when he was 17 to join a trapeze act," Kelly said. He met and married Kelly's mother, also a trapeze performer.

Kelly sat down at the table and set up a small make-up mirror. Taking out tubes of paint and boxes of powder, he began to paint on the white mouth with down-turned corners.

Why, then, did he return to the circus?

"I don't know. Itchy feet, I guess," Kelly said. "The truth of the matter is, in 1956 I was watching Stan Kenton's band and I just got the urge to go clowning."

"So Stan feels he's responsible for me going into show business," Kelly said. "The truth of the matter is, in 1956 I was watching Stan Kenton's band and I just got the urge to go clowning."

Kelly's one-ring circus is one of about four mini-circuses in the nation and it is ranked number one in all-round family entertainment by Variety, the show business newspaper. Kelly said the show has held that rating for the past 18 months.

His is the only circus to perform at the White House, where he appeared twice.

"We had a dog act then," he recalled. "And in this act, the dog did a strip tease. Well, they had a board meeting for about an hour, because no one had ever done a before university regents to demand the artist's reinstatement and a public airing of the charges against him.

Caballero hoped that a public hearing on the matter would assure the campus and Panhandle community that he did not handle for Charles he would not have done for any other art masters candidate.

Subsequently, Caballero was reinstated by regents, but they also established a formal procedure for a public hearing on the issue and in September a hearing committee consisting of two deans and three department heads was elected to hear Caballero's case.

The hearing, Caballero hoped, would lay bare the administration's case and would work, at least, to dispel the rumors.

But, his attorney, George Whittenburg of Amarillo, after conferring with members of Caballero's family, decided not to allow Caballero to take the stand in his own defense.

The decision, Whittenburg says, was based on the state of the artist's health, impaired in the late '60s by a massive heart attack.

Reluctantly Caballero agreed to the decision, trusting that his supporters would continue to assume him an honorable man.

Admittedly distressed by the turn of the hearing, Caballero now confesses he feels the hearing was a mistake, that he was naive in believing he could wield his brush to the canvas to obliterate the image already there in the public mind.

"Sometimes," he says, "The facts are a very poor servant of the truth."

The veracity of the rumor concerning his son's work under Caballero remains in question following the hearing, even though the hearing committee strip in the White House before and they had to approve that dog doing one."

The second time his circus performed at the Easter egg ball on the White House lawn and set an attendance record.

Kelly will take his circus back to Washington D.C. in January to open the Bicentennial events there.

He dabbed spats of red on his cheeks, painting his character with each dab.

He came to Canyon from San Francisco and from here, he will advice from Cox on such an annexation.

"Strip annexation is the big issue," he said. "Are there limitations on the width or length before it becomes strip annexation? We've got to determine this for some later date."

Metcalf said he felt that the planning and zoning board's recommendation was presented to start the commissioners thinking in the direction of controlling unsightly or undesirable growth along the new highway.

"The planning and zoning board says it isn't an immediate need," he said.

Interstate 27 is proposed to bypass Canyon about a mile and a quarter to the east, leaving the present expressway near Stuckey's and running along the line of State 1541 to join the present U.S. 87 south of Happy.

Roy Johnson, state highway department engineer for right of ways, said Tuesday that acquisition of property likely would begin in the next two to three months.

"We're doing some pre-appraisal work now," he said, "in preparation for appraisal assignments. Within three months and maybe in two months, we'll be contacting property owners in the area."

other documents.

The letter from Charles is bitter.

"The class, which apparently causes the greatest questions concerning my father's integrity as well as my own, was a class entitled Metals and it is listed numerically as 504," the letter, dated Sept. 2, 1975, states. "It has been implied that I was allowed to do nothing and was 'given' a grade for my inactivity."

"Additionally, this was doubly made apparent since I was allowed a change of instructor so that my father could give the grade, and I was allowed to do the necessary work off campus. Contrary to the opinions of small men of little faith, I did in fact do more than a sufficient amount of work to meet the requirements of the course."

Charles in the letter says Darold Smith, "not I, requested my father instruct me in this course, stating that my father was vastly more qualified to teach the process of enamelling on copper than he was."

Under his father's guidance, after purchasing equipment, Charles states that he produced 50 enamels "which I then exhibited in a three-member show at the Sumter Gallery of Art and at the Sumter Little Theatre during the presentation of the musical 'Man of La Mancha.' I exhibited still others at a gallery-sponsored show at Sumter Area Technical College in Sumter, where I was teaching evening courses in water color."

While he admits his administrative abilities have been below par, Caballero hopes the letter from Charles, and his own renunciation of the implication that his son's academic course work was handled improperly, will at last lay to rest the rumor which compelled him to seek an unveiling of the truth in the public arena in the first place.

Ghost Time Already?

By DORIS McKEE
ANOTHER WEEK HAS slipped by and we are well into the month of October. Seems they sure do come and go in a hurry.

Halloween comes at the end of this month. It is a time when the ghost and goblins come out and have their night.

Trick and treating is a tradition that has been carried on year after year, and the safety of our trick and treaters is a very big issue.

As the time approaches, let us please be thinking of all the things we can do to insure the safety of each and every child.

LAST FRIDAY WAS a school holiday for all the kids here in the park. Some of them seemed at loose ends and just couldn't find anything to do between 7:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Then at 7:30 p.m. things were looking up, especially in the eyes of Tod McKee and Marty Hoffman, as they put on their glad rags and went to the skating rink where they spent 4 1/2 hours.

WOULD LIKE TO show a change of address on Tom and Jo Fulkerson.

They decided to place their mobile home at 95 Siesta Lane, instead of 140 Siesta Lane.

The rental office has moved into the recreation area office, so stop by and meet with visit with the park's new owner-manager.

TALKED TO CLARICE Heglin Monday night. She and Charles have a friend, Pauline Fowler of Stratford, Connecticut visiting them. Clarice said Pauline would probably be here at least a couple of weeks.

LAST FRIDAY NIGHT Jon Dr. Stephen J. Remlinger, D.C. Announces the Opening Of Canyon Chiropractic Center 1317 4th Ave. 655-7127 and Diana Hoffman decided to try their luck at bingo.

Much to her surprise Diana hit the jackpot and came home quite a bit richer than when she left. After seeing that, I may give bingo a try.

GOOD OLE MOM always seems to show up everytime I need her. I have been a little under the weather lately and Friday night Mom, Mrs. E.M. Weaver of Lubbock, showed up to help out once more. She is spending this week with us and believe me, she is most gratefully appreciated.

ANNETTE AND DANNY Pope spent this past weekend with their Dad, on a farm near Spearman. Annette said she really does like the farm.

JAMES AND SHARON Jones had a very exciting weekend. Friday morning they took Shannon, Randy and Toni to Hereford where they spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N.R. Jones.

After getting the kids settled in for the weekend James and Sharon boarded their motorcycles, along with Sharon's folks, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Newman, and headed for the Aspendale Motorcycle Roundup at Ruidoso, N.M.

Sharon said they rode over to Lincoln, N.M. and all in all she said they cycled around 700 miles. She said they had lots of fun and really did enjoy it. She said there was between three and four thousand people attending the roundup.

SATURDAY NIGHT WAS Kids Inc. night at the WT game. Tod attended along with all the others. This was his third year and he has really enjoyed everyone of them.

SEEMS AT LEAST a couple of families were convinced that Saturday evening was an excellent time to barbecue. Albert and Katie Rinne barbecued for their family and Jon and Diana Hoffman barbecued and had Roscoe, Sharon and Brent Shipley over.

WE WERE TRULY sorry to learn that Scott Hetzler, whose folks own and operate the McCormick Road Minimart, located at McCormick and the E-Way, was bitten by a rat last Friday while playing around the barn at their home. He was to start rabies shots on Monday.

Keep your chin up guy and our thoughts and prayers will be with you.

ON SATURDAY NIGHT an aunt and uncle of mine, Roy and Martha Crumley who live in Pleasant Valley came for a visit.

THE FOOTBALL REPORT for Sunday's games is as follows: The 5th grade team Mickey Bays plays on took a win. They beat Western Plateau 7-0. Congratulations, do it again next week.

The 6th grade team that Tod plays on weren't so lucky. Seems Olsen Park had that magic on their side all the way. Final score was Olsen 22 and Gene Howe 0. Better luck next week you guys.

ERNIE AND DOROTHY Robertson, Diana Hoffman, myself and several others from the park attended the first night of PTA Open House Monday. This night was for morning Kindergarten, first, second and third grades.

TIME TO SIGN off once more but will be back next week so keep on reading. Thought for this week, "Think! Then do what is necessary."

See Ya.

Happy News

By MARY NEAL HENRY
HAPPY COWBOYS WON their Homecoming ballgame against Matador 21 to 18 after coming from behind in the final quarter of the game.

Happy kicked off to begin the game and the ball changed hands several times before J. T. Henry recovered a fumble to give Happy the ball and the drive began for the first score of the game. Eddie Joe Pearson made a first down followed by another by Vincent Venhaus. Terry McDonald, quarterback, drove over for the touchdown. Terry also made the kick good and the Cowboys led 7 to 0.

Mike Todd recovered a fumble early in the first quarter and McDonald again went over for the touchdown. Vincent Venhaus kicked and the score was 14 to 0. With eight minutes and 59 seconds left in the second quarter, Matador scored, but the extra point attempt failed. Then the Matadors blocked a punt on the nine yard line, took the ball and scored making the score 14 to 12. The try for the extra points failed. Mike Todd was in on that tackle. Cowboys ran the remaining minute and 54 seconds out on the clock.

Happy Cowboys received at the beginning of the second half and fumbled. Sammy Moore intercepted a Matador Pass, but the Cowboys were penalized half the distance to the goal line because of clipping. The Cowboys fumbled and Matador recovered in the end zone for a TD, making the score 14 to 18. The kick was no good. With a minute and 17 seconds left in the game, Terry McDonald drove over for a touchdown and Venhaus' kick for the extra point was good.

Matador received the kick and completed a pass, but J. T. Henry tackled the pass receiver. On the next play, Matador fumbled and

The entryway of the Bob Damon home, 17 Country Club Drive, features foliage interest and a figurine in a spacious area as designed by Bob and Wanda Damon. The home will be on the "Harvest Home Tour" Sunday, Oct. 12, from 2-6 p.m.

First Baptist Church of Canyon will have special services on Sunday, Oct. 12, to mark the church's 85th anniversary along with dedication rites for the remodeled segment of the current church building. Dr. Strauss Atkinson, former pastor, will deliver the anniversary sermon at 11 a.m. with Dr. James H.

The Bob Damon home at 17 Country Club Drive will be opened to tour visitors during the Harvest Home Tour sponsored by University Study Club on Sunday.

Tour hours are to be 2-6 p.m. and local and area residents will be given guided tours of four local homes in the annual event.

Tickets for the tour are $1 per person and entitle the bearer to visit each of the four homes on Sunday afternoon. Tickets are available from USC members and will also be available at the door at each of the homes on Sunday afternoon.

Other homes on the tour Sunday, beside the Bob Damon home at 17 Country Club Drive, are the Burwell Southern Home at 8 Bramblewood Lane, the Robert Warren home at 1102 Hillcrest Drive, and the Clinton Glenn home at 1113 Creekmore.

A new feature of the home tour this year will be a "country kitchen" offering homebaked goods and gift items for purchase. The "country kitchen" will be in the garage of the Clinton Glenn home at 1113 Creekmore and will be open from 2-6 p.m. coinciding with the home tour.

As tour guests arrive at the Bob

Damon home they will be received in a spacious 8x10 entry hall which features an accent corner of foliage and figurines.

From the entrance, tour guests will view a massive living room with cathedral ceilings and spacious windows overlooking the Hunsley Hills Golf Course. The living room features a special designed fireplace and opens into the formal dining room which has a built-in china cabinet across the total length of the room.

The roomy kitchen features wood cabinetry and the breakfast nook adjacent has sliding glass doors exiting to the outdoor patio area. From the breakfast nook, the home features an extra wide staircase to an "over the garage" gameroom for the Damon family.

Designed and built by the Damons, the home features four bedrooms, and two full baths. The master bedroom has built-in dressing areas for both Mr. and Mrs. Damon and has French doors leading to the covered patio area.

The Damons' three children: Lynda, 17, Bobby, 14, and Clark, 9, have their own rooms decorated to suit their individual tastes with stuffed toys, posters, doll collections, and hanging plants.

A long covered porch at the front entry is accented by carved posts, planters, and accents the circular drive at the home. Mr. Damon is a State Farm Insurance Agent with offices in Amarillo.

Greeting guests at the Damon home will be a USC hostess committee consisting of Mesdames Alex Tenorio, Richmond Hales, David Davidchek, Arthur Johnson, J.C. Bellah, G.J. Bonds, Jr., Fred Begert and Jean Wright.

Festive Foods Program On Thursday

The annual presentation of "Festive Foods" will be sponsored by the Randall County Family Living Committee and Home Demonstration Council on Thursday, Oct. 9.

Two programs will be presented by Diane Bim, home service advisor with Southwestern Public Service Company, during the day Thursday at the Farm Bureau Building, 1714 5th Avenue, Canyon.

Programs are open to the public at no charge and will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Thursday.

Holiday food ideas from each of the four food groups will be demonstrated at the morning and afternoon programs. Both programs will be the same as the demonstrator uses appliances furnished by Anderson Appliance of Canyon.

The holiday recipes will be demonstrated as cooked on a solid state ceramic top range, cooked by microwave oven and using numerous portable appliances.

Recipe booklets featuring the new holiday recipes will be distributed at the program.

Former Residents Back For Homecoming

Donnie Oler recovered for Happy. A cowboy touchdown was called back in the final seconds of play, but the Cowboys ran the clock out and experienced sweet victory.

It was a team effort. Every cowboy was there for yardage or tackles or recovering fumbles. I don't claim to be a sports writer, so if you didn't like my description, be at the game Friday evening at Sudan. We're pulling for another Cowboy win!

Harold Dempsey, a former Happy student, was playing in the quarterback slot for Matador. Small world!

THE HAPPY COWBOY Band entertained during the half time with a precision drill, under the direction of Cathy Parker. One number featured the twirlers, Nancy White, Pam Andrews and Knoxville LeBeau.

Homecoming activities began Thursday evening when Flame Queen Diane Johnson and Flame King Eddie Joe Pearson lit the bonfire. Happy students held a heated pep rally led by cheerleaders, Valerie Tipps, Lisa Payne, Becky McCarley, Nancy Woods and Carolyn Moudy. Then snake danced back to the school.

Homecoming registration began at two o'clock Friday afternoon in the school auditorium. Dayne Venhaus, president of the student council and Reed McDonald, president of the ex-student association presided.

Becky McCarley escorted by Terry McDonald was crowned Homecoming Queen. Her attendants, were Lisa Payne escorted by Keith Dietz, and Gina Luker, escorted by Dennis Bell. Seniors Mike Todd and Mike Watson also assisted in the coronation ceremonies.

Coach Cleve Vessels introduced the Cowboy football team of 1975 and gave their rank and position. The cheerleaders presented each a miniature gold football for luck as they were introduced.

Those of the 1955 football team who were present were introduced. Others introduced were the oldest ex-student present, Vilos Buchanan, Class of 1911 and Bertie Culp, Class of 1913.

Mrs. John J. Irlbeck was recognized as the mother who had sent the most children to school at Happy - a total of eight children and five grandchildren. Mrs. Lola Bowe had also sent eight children to the Happy Schools.

Maxine Wesley Farris of Santa Rosa, California, came the farthest distance to attend Homecoming Festivities.

Others who came some distance were Wayne Cole and his wife and daughter of Morenci, Arizona. Jean LaRoe Markham of Coolidge, Arizona; and Carolyn Curry Ausedmore and her husband, Clarence, of Tucson, Arizona; Marlin Sluder and wife and two children of Kansas City, Missouri; Dicie and Carl Odom and daughter, Martha Dale of Maxwell, New Mexico; Martha Toles of San Jon, New Mexico; Carolyn Nelson of Leisburg, Texas; and Jerry Powell in service and on his way from Hawaii to Germany.

The Homer T. LaRoe had the most family ex-students present with seven in attendance.

A fourth generation, Shauana and Shandy Harvey were recognized. There are fifty one third generation students in Happy schools and two fourth generations, according to secretary, Maurine Allison.

The entire assembly stood silently while Reed McDonald read the names of those ex-students who had passed away since the last Homecoming. These names were read: a teacher, Guy Killian; John L. Irlbeck, Class of '24; J. V. Harris, Class of '27; Lillian Castleberry Burrows, Class of '30; Sherman Cox, Class of '33; Leslie Curb, Class of '39; Lenora Mahler Gusa, Class of '44; Dick Foster, Class of '56; and Richard SoRelle, Class of '76.

Maurine Allison conveyed some messages from ex-students unable to be present. One of these, Jack Magness, plans to be in attendance next year to celebrate their classes' Golden Anniversary and vows that he will be wearing the sweater that the school presented to him.

THE CLASS OF 1965 held a ten year reunion Saturday at the Happy Jaycee Hall. Luncheon was catered and most of the class stayed until late visiting.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Killingsworth and daughter, sponsors of the group their son, (Russell is now a freshman at A&M); Jeanne (Tirey) and Ronnie Johnson and their Jay Wade and Roxie; Willa Jane (Elliott) and Jim McManigal and their Christi and Jana; Cherie (Holland) Harvey and her Shauna, Shandi and J.J. (Larry had to work); Sara (Sims) and George Tirey and their Jim and Laura; Alice (Womack) and Ronnie Middleton and their Marty and Mace; All still from Happy; and Judy (Sexton) and Tommy Stewart and John; Frank and Judy Venhaus and daughter; Jim and Eddie Cope and their Joda and Jeffna; and Gladene (Cox) Woodside and Glen, all from Tulsa; Joe and Jeanette Johnson and their Troy, Trent, and Trey, of Nazareth; Angela (Aihart) and Kent Nix and Roque of Lamesa; Hobie and Dixie McManigal and their Kim and Kay of Vernon; Carolyn Nelson of Leisburg (she was already married when she came to Happy and graduated); Larry and Ann (Szydlowski) Payne of Amarillo; David and Kay Penn and Laurie and John of Amarillo; Bob and Patsy Carter of Pampa; Jerry Don and Doris Danner and son of Ballinger; Annie (Fowler) from Canyon; Elaine (Harman) and John Drake and daughter of the Dallas area; Sharon (Johnson) and Bob Dickens of Houston; Leonida (Thornton) and James Cleveland and Kristie of Floydada; and Gary and Jo Via of Dallas.

Twenty four out of a graduating class of thirty six attended... those who had planned to stay only a short while ended up spending the whole day at the reunion.

MORE EX-STUDENTS SEEN during Homecoming Activities were the Skeet Bonds of Dumas, Phoebe and Donnie Cole and family of Plainview, the Walkers of Pampa, Barry Stevens of Pringle, L. G. and Yvonne Airhart of Amarillo, Dan Rahls of Amarillo, Cortez Dowlen, H. J. and Wilda Faye Greenfields of Amarillo, Donna and Gary Collins of Dallas and Billie Jean and Jackson (used to be Hancock) of Canyon, and college students home - Mary Ann Sims, Jini LaRoe, Sandy Ralbach, Jim Hand, Mark Hargrave, Don Lee and Ronnie and Billie Jackson, and many more.

Hobie McManigal and Susan Rahls, both Math majors, were caught in the cafeteria talking about how to improve today's math students. I am pleased that someone does care. Either of them can teach my children any day.

ODESSA EVANS, 76, died October 2 in Medi Park Care Center in Amarillo. Services were conducted at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Happy and burial was in the Happy Cemetery. Rev. Ronald Mooney of Kress and Rev. Paul Heil of Happy officiated.

Survivors are two brothers, Charles Evans of Happy, and Joe Evans of Hereford; and a sister, Mrs. J. C. Cox of Dumas; and a nephew whom she reared, E. C. Neff of Amarillo.

Our sympathies are also with the Cabe family this week because of the passing of Ralph Cabe.

LAVERNA AND EUGENE Jackson and their Gennie were flown to Nebraska by Cecil Hayes last week end for a family reunion. They returned on Monday.

Have a good day! Mary Neal

Bi-Centennial Ball Fashions Optional

The American Reflections bi-centennial ball later this month will feature "fashions of the past" on an optional basis for participants, according to Mrs. Keith Winter, entertainment chairman.

"Folks won't be out of place in cottons, gingham, or whatever," related the chairman. "An informal judging will occur during the evening with awards to be given in four different categories for both men and women on an individual basis."

Categories will be in heirloom attire, panhandle frontier days, authentic copies, and best overall bi-centennial theme.

All judging will be done on an informal individual basis during the evening by judges including: Mrs. Harper, Charlotte Brantley, Mrs. B. Raymond Evans of Tulsa, Olive Bugbee, Jim Kimmerling and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Moore.

Those with "heirloom" costumes for the Oct. 25 ball have been asked to contact Mrs. Patrick (Margaret) Kelso at 655-7516 so that recognition ribbons will be ready at the door that evening.

Authentic costumes of the past will be among suitable attire for the upcoming American Reflections bi-centennial ball on Oct. 25 as Donna Wilson and Mrs. Charles Wright, right, take a reflective pause at the Ladies Dress Shoppe of the Pioneer Village in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Allison Pride, Sally Jackson, Danae Lacy and Andrea Curlee; third row, Keri Beth Davidchik, Katherine Evans and Cindy Ferguson. Accompanying them are leaders Frances Yows and Louise Russell and senior scouts Diane Hudson and Paula Johnston.

Gene Howe News

By KAROLYN FARMER
I'VE GOT A riddle for you: What has 1202 legs, an endless supply of energy and receives lots of love and attention? The answer — the 601 children at Gene Howe School.

The enrollment figure is official as of this past Monday and was announced by Mr. Lawless at the Open House for parents on Monday evening.

Another open House will be held on Monday, October 13th for the parents of children in the afternoon kindergarten classes and grades 4, 5 and 6.

Because our school is such a vital part of our community life, every parent should make a special effort to attend the Open House activities.

Not only is this a great opportunity for parents and teachers to become better acquainted, but there are some important projects to be discussed and presented to the parents which directly affect all of us in the Gene Howe area.

So we'll see you next Monday night!!

MRS. JIMMY (SUE) Morrison, who teaches a class of four year olds at St. Andrews Episcopal School in Amarillo, recently entertained the children at her home.

The 36 children and 6 adults enjoyed watching Donnie Barnett perform some fancy feats of horsemanship. Jimmy Morrison treated each of the children to a horseback ride. The class of preschoolers also had fun digging carrots and potatoes out of the Morrison's garden.

ALICIA NIEMEIER'S FIRST grade class was busy making preparations for Open House when I visited them on Monday. Lisa Ballard, Jennifer McNeal and Yvette DeBord were intently studying their faces in a mirror as part of helping them make their "Self Pictures."

Each child had a large "paper doll" in the shape of a boy or girl which they were coloring to represent themselves. Wayne Trudeau, who has blond hair and was wearing a bright yellow shirt, was making good use of his yellow crayon.

One of the reading groups was enjoying a game called "Pop-Up" with their teacher in the reading circle. As Alicia held up pictures the children would identify the object and the first letter of the word.

Mrs. Niemeier's room is lavishly decorated in a fall theme. One bulletin board featured the calendar for October surrounded by autumn leaves and pictures of fall scenes.

A lifesize scarecrow is the center of attention on another of the bulletin boards. Beside him is a large tree whose leaves each bear a letter of the alphabet.

Another of the reading groups enjoyed sitting on the rug with their teacher as they studied the letter sounds. Using small plastic "toys," Alicia would name a letter and each child would pick out an object beginning with that letter.

Featured in one corner of the room is the children's art work — pictures of trees with bright bits of paper glued on for the leaves. Michelli Holladay, Tony Warren and Brett Polvadore were the most recent birthday celebrities — all three had celebrated their birthdays on October 3rd.

Monday was a special day for Mrs. Niemeier's class, as well as the other first grade classes at Gene Howe. It was their first time to spend the entire day at school.

As I left them the children were lining up to go to the music room for their first class with Margie Phillips.

LESLIE WRIGHT IS the newest member of Alicia Niemeier's class. Leslie, who has been attending Highland Park School, enrolled at Gene Howe on Monday.

Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Wright, and she also has a brother James, who is five years old.

The Wrights new home, formerly occupied by the Tom Lane family, is located on Valleyview. Carroll Wright is employed as a maintenance control supervisor at T.S.T.I.

Cathy Wright is employed with the Opportunity Plan, Inc. in Canyon. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Morris of Canyon.

The favorite pastime of both Carroll and Cathy is playing golf.

RONNIE BAILEY, WHO manages Southwest Golf Course, still has several purple and white Eagle jackets for sale. The jackets are the windbreaker type and come in small, medium and large children's sizes. They are being offered through the Southwest Golf Club for $12.50 each.

If you would like to purchase one of the jackets, you may see them at the golf course pro shop located on Hollywood Road, or call Ronnie at 355-7161.

MRS. WILLIE FOUTS of Vernon is visiting in the Tommy Ford home at Lake Tanglewood this week. Mrs. Fouts is the mother of Linda Ford.

ELLEN WILSON, THE di-agnostician at Gene Howe, is in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo following recent surgery. Of course, everyone at the school misses Ellen, and we all wish her a quick recovery.

FOOTBALL SCORES FROM last Sunday's games: The 4th grade team was defeated by Olsen Park, 20 to 14; The 5th grade Gene Howe team won their game against Western Plateau by a score of 6 to 0; The 6th grade team lost their game to Olsen Park by a score of 22-0.

THE 1ST AND 2nd grade boys' soccer team played two games this past week. Last Saturday they won their game with St. Mary's by a score of 5-0. The boys played a team from

School Kids Answer Riddle

Lawndale School on Monday evening and won by a score of 3-1.

JEREMY COCHRAN IS the newest addition at the home of David and Becky Cochran. Jeremy was born on September 19th and weighed a healthy 8 pounds, 2 ounces at birth.

John and Jenny Cochran are Jeremy's proud brother and sister.

MARION SHOEMAKER, WHO teaches a 6th grade class at Gene Howe, attended an area-wide PESO workshop in Amarillo on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Substituting for Mrs. Shoemaker's class was Marilyn Perrin, who formerly taught a 5th grade class for two years at our school.

SANDRA WAIT AND I attended the District 8 PTA Fall Workshop held at Fannin Jr. High in Amarillo last week. Special emphasis at the workshop was placed on ways to promote membership gains in PTA.

We also enjoyed visiting with Sandy Morgan and Isabel Garcia who were representing Rex Reeves School at the workshop.

SYMPATHIES ARE EXTENDED to Mr. and Mrs. Ron Ruse, on the death of their 10-month-old son, Ronald. Survivors also include brothers, George and Phillip, and sisters, Rebecca and Ronetta.

THE 6TH GRADE band and choral musicians under the direction of J. W. King and Margie Phillips will present a Veteran's Day Program on Monday, October 27th.

The program will be presented to the student body at 10:15 in the cafeteria. Also all parents are invited to attend.

JACKIE JOBE HAS been busy this past week perfecting her "putting up a tent" talents. Jackie was among a group of Campfire Girls leaders who took part in a Leadership Training Program for this area.

The outdoor training sessions were held every day last week. Besides learning how to put up a tent on a windy Panhandle day, Jackie said she also learned how to bake a cake on a "Buddy Burner."

Tootie Bybee taught the Bluebird Leadership Training Course. Attending the course from the Gene Howe area were Rosie Scroggins, Margie Morgan and Sharon Jones.

Cyclethon Riders Give Full Effort

Eighty-nine bike riders departed the courthouse square in Canyon at 9 a.m. on Saturday for a ten-mile round trip effort to raise funds for the Randall County Unit of the American Heart Association.

The cyclethon riders were encouraged to pedal farther if they desired and Denny Park, Canyon Junior High School teacher, kept on riding until he had clocked 80 miles. He left the ride at 4 p.m. in time to make it home for a supper his wife was preparing.

Other riders chalking up the farther distances in the ride were Ronnie Brown, 50 miles; Curt Johnson, 50 miles; and Pam Cathey, 40 miles.

All cycle riders are responsible to have their own individual and business sponsors prior to the ride and make their pledge collections following the ride. When riders have turned in all money to the local unit of the American Heart Association the cyclethon winners will be determined and the awarding of special prizes in elementary, junior high, high school and college and adult divisions will be conducted.

Prizes awaiting the bike riders are a Western Flyer bicycle from Western Auto of Canyon for the elementary category; a John Deere bicycle for the junior high section from Texas Tractor Company in Amarillo; a citizens band radio from CB Center midway between Canyon-Amarillo in the high school-college section; and a 100 pound beef package from Happy Hereford Ranch for the adult division.

"We anticipate presenting the prizes during the Canyon High School football game here on October 17," stated Lee Reeves, publicity chairman for the unit.

"We would also like to extend our appreciation to the bike riders, their sponsors and the merchants who provided the gifts in making this one of our most successful rides yet," she concluded.

Canyon To Test Winning Palo Duro Dons

Perception could be the key this week end as the Canyon Eagles, yet to win this season, go against the Palo Duro Dons, a team which fought to the state semi-finals last year and has a series of 18 games without a scoreboard loss.

Canyon Coach Deane Wright, in his first year here, hopes Palo Duro has been reading Canyon's press clips.

Wright, a long-time veteran in the high school football business, knows that ephemeral quality which coaches call spirit or which is embodied in the term "up" when a coach says his team is really "up" for a game can be as important to winning ball games as good running backs and months of physical training.

And he also knows that for a good team, one with the two-year season history of Palo Duro, there is a tendency for the exact reverse attitude to envelope the team members, particularly as the team approaches a game with a team with the dismal record of Canyon.

In effect, Wright hopes Palo Duro underestimates the Eagles, which undoubtedly has one of the best defensive units in the Panhandle.

If he can catch them off guard, perhaps, the Eagles might be able to not only knock off a state AAAA contender but also take home a most prestigious first season win.

Wright does not underestimate the strengths of his Friday night opponents. Nor does he underestimate the strengths and the weaknesses of a Canyon Eagle offensive unit which has been able to score only twice this year.

The measure of the Eagle mettle was revealed to an extent last week end when Canyon put on a spirited, almost inspired, first-half effort against Pampa's Har-vesters, scoring a touchdown while holding the big AAAA team to no points and little yardage. Of course, a half does not tell the whole story and the Eagles' inexperience plus the fatigue which is inevitable when a good part of the team play both on offense and defense led to a 20-7 defeat at the hands of the Har-vesters.

Wright feels both offensive and defensive units made progress in the Pampa game and through practice sessions this week.

For the first time this season, for example, three offensive linemen scored passing grades on the Eagle coaches' scoring system.

Lynn Schmidt, who took the center position even though a light 160-pounder, scored an 85 to make the highest score on the system tallied this season by a member of the offensive unit.

The offensive unit, in fact, drew its first praise of the year from Wright for the Pampa game.

"The offense executes its plays as well as we could ask them to execute them," he said. "The thing that stops us is the fumble, penalties. We stop ourselves. But we do it less each week."

Wright is confident the Eagles will make a good showing against the Dons, whose 1975 team is said by most observers to be just as good as the district winners of 1974.

"We'll be in the ballgame," he said. "If we get the right breaks we could win."

Wright, as in past weeks, will be relying on his tough defensive unit to hold the Dons, who have been racking up between 300 and 400 yards rushing each game this season.

"I don't think they'll run through us," he said.

Wright is counting on the return of big Bob Lee, a 240-pound tackle, who was out last week end due to a sprained ankle. Although Lee was not up to full speed in practices this week, he's expected to be back in action, plugging a valuable hole in the defensive line against the Dons.

For offensive impetus, Wright will be going with newcomer Jack Wright, leading ground-gainer in his first varsity game last week end, at the left half-back slot with Joe Luquette, one of the fastest men on the Eagle club, at right halfback and Jonathan Hull at fullback.

Allen Shankles, the southpaw quarterback, will be leading the team when it takes the field in Dick Bivins Stadium.

Not that Wright discounts the Dons' ability in the least.

With small but agile and swift backs, the Dons are a potent scoring threat.

Eagle scouts in viewing the Dons this year have limited their descriptions of Robert Sillivant, a fleet fullback for the Dons, to a simple "THE MAN" adjective-noun combination.

Tailback Greg Towner will also pose problems for the Eagle defensive line, as will quarterback Bill McIluff, in his first year at the helm of the Dons.

In addition, to a trio of good backs to run their I formation offense, the Dons have a burly defensive unit to check the Eagle offensive effort. Up front for the Dons will be men weighing above the 200-pound mark.

The Eagles will meet the Dons in Amarillo's Dick Bivins Stadium at 7:30 p.m. Friday for the match.

Embarassed Buffs, Aggies To Meet

West Texas State and Utah State, a pair of football teams that had problems last week end with a couple of UTAs, try to shake the cobwebs in an inter-sectional football clash Saturday afternoon (Oct. 4) in Logan, Utah's E. L. Romney Stadium.

Broadcast of the game over the Shamrock Network back to the Texas Panhandle will begin at 2:15 with the kickoff set for 2:30. CDT. Warren Hasse will handle the play-by-play.

WT's Buffaloes dropped to 1-3 on the year with a 39-7 loss to U. T. Arlington, while Utah State's Aggies fell 61-7 to U. T. Austin. That also put the Utags' 1975 record at 1-3.

Nine turnovers proved to be too much of a burden for the Buffs in their loss to the Southland

Conference's Mavericks. WT coughed up the ball five times in the first half as U. T. Arlington put it away with a 36-0 lead. Freshman fullback Bo Robinson scored the Buffs' only touchdown in the third period on a one-yard plunge.

The Buffalo defense, on the field for 19 more plays than the WT offense, was put through its worst night of the season. UTA rushed for an even 400 yards, almost as many as the Buffs had allowed in the three previous games.

This week with Utah State, the defensive task should be even tougher. The Utags boast of the defending NCAA rushing and all-purpose running champ in senior Louie Giammona. Only 5-9, 176 pounds, Giammona gained 125 yards and scored the winning touchdown in USU's comeback behind 21-16 win over the Buffs last year.

Giammona ranked 10th nationally in rushing last week before the Texas game at 125.7 yards per outing, and he was third in all-purpose running at 176.3.

He isn't the only Utag listed in the national stats, either. Quarterback Greg Van Ness ranked 22nd in passing with 10.0 completions per game. If that name has a hauntingly familiar ring for Buff fans, it should. Van Ness started his college football career at North Texas State, and was named the Missouri Valley Conference's player of the week after the Mean Green's 32-15 win in Denton. In the game, he completed 10 of 20 passes for 210 yards.

On the Buff side of the ledger, Robinson had the best individual night of any WT running back this year with 79 yards in just nine carries against U.T. Arlington. The performance allowed him to take over the team's rushing leadership with 141 yards in 25 carries, an average of 5.6 per game.

In practice sessions this week the Buffs have been worried about injuries.

Defensive tackle Floyd Jones missed the UTA game with an ankle injury and is doubtful again for the Utah State outing. Also doubtful are defensive tackle Mike Lusane, suffering a hip pointer, strong safety Michael Kelson, with a knee injury, offensive tackle Jeff Lloyd with a neck injury, and tight end Keith Oxley with a neck injury. Several other players have missed practice this week but should be able to start Saturday afternoon.

In spite of the embarrassing loss suffered by the Aggies at the hands of the Longhorns last week end, Mayfield believes Utah State is a team not to be undersold.

"Their offense has not been that impressive until you realize the caliber of football teams that they have been playing," he said. "San Diego State is always big and strong, Texas, Florida State — those teams are much stronger than the teams we've been playing."

Giammona has not really had the opportunity to get the impressive rushing statistics, but I'm sure that he'll want to improve them this week against us."

Mayfield discounts Utah State's outing against the Texas Longhorns as typical of the defensive effort the Aggies are capable of.

"You really can't lump that game in with the others that they have played," he said. "No one individual really stands out, and you can tell just by watching films that they are an experienced unit. They can handle just about anything that comes their way — draws, screens, and the like."

Parks Board Elects Ritter As Chairman

The newly-appointed parks and recreation board elected officers and set several immediate tasks at the organizational meeting Tuesday night.

George Ritter, assistant professor of government, was chosen chairman, and Phillip Langen, manager of the university bookstore, was elected co-chairman. Absent from the first meeting were Buddy Taylor and Virginia Cotten.

Staggered terms were chosen by drawing names. Appointed for three years were Langen and Mrs. Cotten. Two-year terms were drawn for Ritter and Taylor and Mrs. A. L. Crossland was chosen for one year.

After agreeing to postpone consideration of by-laws until the next meeting, the group set several immediate tasks: investigate funding and ways to quickly develop several neighborhood parks.

Funding was at the top of the list. Langen, who headed the Chamber of Commerce ad hoc committee on recreation, reminded the committee that the school system had once agreed to give $10,000 for recreation facilities that could be shared by the school and community.

"We need to see if this board still has access to the $10,000 offered by the school," Langen said.

Langen and Ritter also planned to meet with County Judge Woody Pond to ask about county funds, and to investigate courses of state and federal funding.

The board also agreed that several small neighborhood parks should be developed as soon as possible. Langen told the board that approximately three acres near the creek on the east side of town has previously been offered by Dr. Charles Nester as a picnic and fishing site and the board agreed to investigate developing the area as a mini-park.

A playground in the western part of town was cited as an immediate need and the board agreed, to begin a search for a site.

Ritter also asked for formal consideration by the new board of the earlier plan for a large, central park proposed by the ad hoc committee.

The next meeting was set for Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. in the community center.

WT Netter's Looks Deceiving

West Texas State University tennis player Steve Johnson is an ideal exemplification of the old axiom, "You can't judge a book by its cover."

"People just look at the guy — he's so thin and small — that they say, 'He can't be nothing,'" Buff coach David Kent says in reference to Johnson's 5-7, 135-pound frame. "But his size takes opponents by surprise. He is so talented he can do anything on the court."

"He is a good athlete and I believe he can play with any collegiate player in the country. As a matter of fact, I know he can: he proved it in the Midland tournament."

At the Midland Open tournament last month, Johnson battled Trinity All-American Bill Matyastik to wire before falling 3-6, 6-3, 6-3. In Kent's eyes, it was a moral victory.

"Steve played him very well and proved a lot," Kent said. "What is so impressive about Steve is his ability to keep his composure. Other players may get all upset and beat themselves, but Johnson is not going to do that."

"I was a little nervous," admitted the Reno, Nev., junior, "but I figured that if I could get Matyastik's serve back, I would be okay."

Kent says Johnson always does okay when it is time to play. "He is a game player, which is what you want. Steve worked hard over the summer, came back here in great shape, and it has paid him great dividends."

With all six top players returning from WT's third straight Missouri Valley Conference championships, can the Buffs be a better team this year?

"We'll be the same team," smiled Johnson, with a track record like that, that's enough.
